The Meaning Of Christmas

(So that we all may find a deeper sense of the meaning of Christmas this season, OBSERVER has asked members of Glades churches to write about what Christmas means to them. We are thankful for their cooperation, and shall publish these articles weekly until Christmas. — Editor)

BY MRS. EARL PITTS
Member of the Church of the Nazarene
Pahokee

At this season of the year, after Thanksgiving is past, we turn our thoughts to the real reason and occasion for our gratitude and thanksgiving. That reason is the birth of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

He, who, in the beginning, created man in His own image, after we had been so rebellious and sinful, came to earth as our Redeemer.

It is because of His coming that we can boast of a Christian heritage, America. Through Jesus Christ we have the freedom of speech and religion. In its final analysis, the world has so little to offer in comparison to what Christ has purchased for us.

After we have tasted of all the world offers, there is still a hidden hunger in man. A crying need that continually calls for action. Christ and Christianity is the answer to that gnawing hunger.

Christ is the only one who can go with us all the way. He is present with us through our most heavy sorrows. He is there when affliction lays us or our loved ones low. He is present to guide us in the "paths of righteousness for His name's sake."

As a Christian, I not only serve Him on the Sabbath Day but every day.

It was He who was born, in a stable, grew in stature and wisdom with God and man. On through life He went, healing the sick, raising the dead, comforting the sad. Until, finally, He took my place and yours on Calvary, suffering, the innocent for the guilty.

Is it any wonder that I and the peoples of the whole world feel so deeply about Him? He is Wonderful, the mighty God, Conqueror, the Prince of Peace, and I expect to help Crown Him Lord of Lords and King of Kings.

There was no room for Him in the inn, but I am glad I have made room for Him in my heart. He was laid in a borrowed manger, ate at borrowed tables, slept on borrowed beds, a Cyrenian was borrowed to carry the Cross he fell under. He was laid in a borrowed tomb. He said of Himself, "the foxes have holes, the birds have nests, but the Son of man hath not where to lay His head."

Jesus means to me, among many things, a Saviour, Redeemer, Friend, and another at Heaven's Court. He means to me the many temporal blessings that I enjoy and hold dear.

My words are too limited to express just what He, Jesus Christ, means to me. I am not acquainted with Him, "Let Jesus come into your heart." May this be your merriest Christmas as you realize just what He means to you.

BY MILLS H. BYROM
Member of First Baptist Church
Belle Glade

I grew up in a Christian home where the Christmas season was observed as a quiet time of rejoicing and thanksgiving for the blessings of God that come to us through the gift of His Son. My birth was a joyous occasion. The blessings of friends and loved ones and the bountiful supply for our material needs were also remembered. Although we frequently enjoyed exchanging visits and coming together in large groups to enjoy the fellowship of Christmas dinner on Christmas eve and Christmas morning were times when every member of the family was at home if at all possible. This custom drew us very close to each other in a joyful, reverent way.

The value of many fine Christmas traditions that meant so much to me and my children has been all but destroyed by commercialization. This is especially true of Santa Claus and to a lesser extent the giving of expensive gifts and over-emphasis on the Yule tree. Liquor drinking and riotous parties that have become a part of the season with so many are to be condemned as completely foreign to the spirit and teachings of Christ whose birth we honor.

From my own experience, I can remember no greater thrill than the brief glimpses of Santa Claus at the rural church Christmas tree in the community center. I grew up. The excitement and expectation of several weeks was climaxed on Christmas morning when we broke out of bed long before day break and made our way to the fireplace where the stockings were hung so carefully the night before. Shouts of glee announced the finding of each present.

SCHOOL ARTISTS CAN WIN $100 FOR COUNTY SEAL

WEST PALM BEACH — A $100 award is being offered by the Palm Beach County Commission for the student who designs the most suitable design for official designation of a Palm Beach County seal.

Funds for the competition and you may rest assured that no one slept any more that day. Instead of being soiled and disillusioned when I learned the true nature of Santa Claus, I kept a very firm believer in him and have spent many pleasant hours cooperating with him in bringing happiness and joy to children in the neighborhood. I am so confident that the grandchildren will learn the true spirit of Santa Claus and keep his fine tradition alive with their own children as they come along.

Christmas was born and laid in a manger in the little town of Bethlehem. We still rejoice with the shepherds who traveled by night to pay homage to Him and like the wise men from the East who brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh as tokens of their devotion. We gratefully acknowledge Him as Savior and Lord.

Cold and hunger prevail in many parts of the world today as a result of war and strife brought on by human greed. There are millions of people who have never heard of the lowly Jesus of Nazareth, and know nothing of the price He paid to atone for the sins of a lost world.

As we begin this Christmas season, my earnest prayer is that we who are His children may do our part to spread the joyful news of Salvation throughout the world and hope for a lasting peace that can come only when all of the people of the world accept Him as Savior and Lord.

The design competition is open to all county school children and sketches must be submitted by March 1 when they will be judged by a contest committee to select a winner.

"DECK THE STREETS..."

Bob Schneider and his city crew will have Christmas lights up on downtown Pahokee streets next week if all goes well. City Council Monday voted money for purchase of new strings of lights and new bulbs.

COUNCIL HEARS TAX REQUESTS

PAHOKEE — With only three council members present, an application for a tax exemption for a new building was tabled for future consideration at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

Present were Council President George Tucker Jr., Councilmen Edgar Wilder and Loren Meredith, and Mayor Dick Parrish.

The application for tax exemption came from Leo Wroten, whose new building, adjacent to Parrish Jewelry Company is nearing completion.

Wroten wrote the council asking for a five-year tax exemption, stating he felt he was due consideration similar to that given recently to Elmer Upstegrove for a new eatery on East Main St.

In other action, council RECEIVED a letter from Pahokee Women's Club urging that the city's water intake be moved from the breakwater area. The city clerk was authorized to write K. C. Mock Associates to complete a survey of the situation.

DENIED a request from W. H. Vann, Inc. for a tax refund of about $300 on double taxation meted in 1951-54, on grounds that too much time had elapsed before a formal protest was made.

South Bay Hopes To Be Major City

SOUTH BAY — If city fathers have their way, South Bay may emerge — in several years' time — as a major Glades city rivaling with Belle Glade and Pahokee.

At Monday night's regular council meeting, discussions were held on contacting for rock for completely new streets to expand this growing community.

And, at an appearance before the Belle Glade city commission Wednesday, City Clerk Alvin Crow said that South Bay hopes to eventually build its own water system, not only to serve its own citizens, but to serve neighboring communities as well.

"Lake Harbor and Bean City have been crying on our shoulders for us to supply them water," the city clerk said.

Accompanied by Councilmen Sullivan and Henrich, Crow made an appearance before Belle Glade's commission to seek a refund for over-charge on water supplied by that city to South Bay during the past three years.

City Clerk Frank Anderson agreed that the amount of the over-charge might be from $800 to $1,000 for each of the three years.

Discovery of the over-charge came when Crow realized South Bay sale of water to its residents came far short of what the city was billed for by Belle Glade.

NEW ELK is Dr. T. W. Hahn, who was initiated Monday into Belle Glade Elks Lodge 1716 along with seven other men. The initiation class was named in honor of District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Parker T. Wilson, center, of Clewiston. At left is Belle Glade's exalted ruler, Emmett S. Roberts. Others included were Dr. Roy W. Brown, Robert L. Edens, Robert W. Fliehs, J. B. Martin, James L. Motes, Dr. K. C. Richmond and James E. Williams.

'UP NAWTH' this week is Bill Pierce, right, shown here loading about a ton of ramie he processed especially for experimental use by cotton textile manufacturers.

Inventor Heads North With Ton of Processed Ramie In Sample Lots

BELLE GLADE — Despite reports that Newport Industries, one of the area's biggest producers, is retiring from the ramie business, Bill Pierce, Belle Glade inventor, holds the highest hopes that in time ramie will be a most important factor in Glades economy.

After developing his exclusive ramie processing machinery this summer, Pierce made the rounds of textile manufacturers and received encouragement aplenty.

One manufacturer has written Pierce that his company has been able to utilize existing cotton spinning equipment in handling fine Pierce ramie.

"We believe that we are on the threshold of a completely new industry," the manufacturer wrote.

Pierce left Tuesday on another extended tour of textile manufacturers. He took along nearly a ton of fine ramie in various sample lots of the wonder fiber, processed to specific orders of manufacturers for their own further testing. His trip will take him to Georgia, North Carolina, Philadelphia, New York City and Boston.

Rattler Bathes The Hard Way

PAHOKEE — Adhering to the old saying, everything came old in the wash at the John T. Pickett residence last Friday, including a rattlesnake.

Mrs. Pickett had stuffed the first batch of clothes into the wash machine when she heard sounds indicating that all was not well with its innards. She peered into the machine, but saw nothing amiss.

The water came on and then the fun began. Peering in again, Mrs. Pickett was faced with a small snake coiled atop the clothes, in striking position. Being a hardy Glades pioneer, Mrs. Pickett didn't scream and run. She took two sticks and snagged the snake and forthwith dispatched it.

She is keeping it on display. "Nobody would ever believe a story like that," she said. Besides, if the snake's mama and papa are living nearby, Mrs. Pickett would like to meet them on equal terms, not glaring at her from the family wash machine.

TB Rate Higher Among Glades Area Children

SOUTH BAY — Glades children are more prone to becoming victims of tuberculosis than are children anywhere else in the county, it has been revealed in a report issued by W. C. Allen of South Bay, Glades member of the board of directors of the county Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Allen released the TB data in conjunction with the Christmas Seal Sale Campaign, which raises money to fight the dread disease.

According to the report, recent tests of first grade school children throughout the county showed 14 percent of Glades children were TB positive, as compared with 5.9 percent positive among children in the county's coastal area.

Broken down by race, while children in Glades showed 7.8 percent positive, compared with 4.3 percent on the coast, while Glades colored children were 18 percent positive as compared with 11 percent among coastal colored youngsters.

Allen urged high contributions for Christmas Seals from Glades residents and said the money would be used to conduct a mass chest x-ray survey in the Glades next February and March.

The report indicates that the TB case rate in Palm Beach County is second highest among counties in the state, and is higher than the state national averages. One out of five Glades Negro children has been exposed to active TB by the age of six years, the report states.

Seal Sale Starts Next Week

PAHOKEE — At Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Women's Club, Mrs. Louis Davis, chairman of TB Christmas seal sales in Pahokee, asked for volunteer workers and announced that the Christmas seal campaign will begin next week.

The club voted to sponsor the cancer information center, with Mrs. Sam McKinstry Sr. as committee chairman. Beginning next Friday, the center, which will be located in the Chamber of Commerce building, will be available to the public on the first and third Friday of each month, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mildred Schoeppl, public welfare chairman, introduced Leonard Dobrow, a director of the Palm Beach County unit of the American Cancer Society, who presented Mrs. Barbara Goodwin, executive director of the same organization. Mrs. Goodwin spoke on cancer in the Glades area.

CURRENTLY

It's high time the Glades came up with its own unique version of a super-man such as Minnesota's John Bunyan. Someone capable of blowing the cold front off the way back to Canada from whence the frost blasts come.

Current Olympic Games in Australia prove that U.S. athletes are tops, even when they are "down under."

The Christmas buying season is underway. Sensible people will shop leisurely at home. Others will fight the mass of crowds in big cities in the belief that being shoved around adds glamor to their purchases.

Glades children are in greater danger of contracting tuberculosis than those in other parts of the county. It will be interesting to see if the Glades leads in per capita sales of Christmas seals.

You know 1956 is drawing to a close when Uncle Sam's tax collectors announce that income tax forms will be available Monday for those needing "advance copies."

Data from the state's new alcoholic treatment clinic at Avon Park states that 100,000 alcoholics reside in Florida. To say the least, that figure is both staggering and — sobering.

WHAT WILL FOLLOW? — What will be the outcome of the "bus segregation" conference to be held in Washington on Dec. 10?

Thirty-four United States Attorneys from 14 states have been summoned to a one-day conference here. From Florida will be George H. Carswell, of the Northern District, and James L. Gullmarten, Southern District. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. has called this conference to "decide upon measures most appropriate to secure observance of the United States Constitution and laws by carriers and all others who may hereinafter require segregation of white and colored passengers on common carriers."

Other states to be represented are: Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Some southern Congressmen here think this is the beginning of a new "crack down" policy of the Justice Department. They point to the strong crack-down type language used by Attorney General Brownell who said that any state, county, or city law requiring segregation on buses "must be regarded as a dead letter."

In his letter to the attorneys,

Brownell says, "I am informed that in your district there are unenforced state statutes or local ordinances or other regulations requiring segregation of the white and colored races on common carriers of passengers. I am calling a conference in Washington of the United States Attorneys from all districts in which discriminatory state or local laws of this kind are unenforced. The purpose of the conference will be to consider and decide upon those measures most appropriate for the Department of Justice to take to secure observance of the United States Constitution and laws by the carriers and all others who may hereinafter require segregation of those discriminated against and a crime against the United States. Anyone who commands, induces, procures, counsels, aids or abets the carrier in the commission of any such crimes is equally guilty."

The conference, as they call it, is to be a "work-shop" to figure how to nullify all of these various state laws. To be sure each "student" is prepared for his job, he was told by Mr. Brownell, he will be helped if you will bring to the conference the text of any such discriminatory law, ordinance or regulation that has been enacted in your district.

Stop Mildew In Cucumber Plantings

BRADENTON — A tiny fungus with an imposing name is costing Florida cucumber growers many profit dollars, says Dr. Grover Sowell Jr., University of Florida, Gulf Coast Experiment Station worker here.

The fungus, downy mildew—known as blight or rust—is the most destructive disease of Florida's $9,000,000 cucumber crop, says Dr. Sowell.

Assisting growers to cope with this microscopic ravage, the Experiment Station has checked a number of fungicides to prevent the spread of downy mildew. Results show that zineb and maneb are effective preventives. Maneb—containing managanese—when used on managanese-deficient soils may increase cucumber yields, according to Dr. Sowell.

Tiny spores of the "rust" fungus spread the disease through the air from one plant to another or from one field to another. As the spores spread more rapidly during periods of heavy dew, rain or overcast skies, growers should keep a protective coating of a zineb or maneb spray on the cucumber leaves especially during these adverse weather periods, suggests Dr. Sowell.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Kid's Learned to "Take Charge"

I was down at Buck Benson's store the other day when a fellow came in with a six-year-old boy—obviously his son.

While the fellow was looking over some stuff on the counter, Buck handed a free peppermint stick to the boy, who promptly tore off the wrapper and went to work on it.

The father seemed quite put out about his son's lack of manners and held up his hand to stop him. "What do we say when Mr. Benson gives us something?" he demanded. "Charge it," replied the kid without hesitation. From where I sit, children aren't the only ones who "repeat things" without knowing what they're talking about. For instance, I'm convinced that many of those who speak out against the old American custom of enjoying a glass of beer after work are just parroting what they've heard others say. It's better to get the facts—then make up our own minds—and permit our neighbors to do the same.

Church Activities In The Glades

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

The supremacy of spiritual law will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Scriptural selections will include Paul's statement to the Galatians (3:21): "Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (273:21-24): "God never ordained a material law to annul the spiritual law. If there were such a material law, it would oppose the supremacy of Spirit, God, and impugn the wisdom of the creator."

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (10:10, 12): "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king. He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion."

FR. PETRIE DISCUSSES THE SEASON OF ADVENT

Next Sunday is really the Christian New Year's Day, says Father John Clarence Petrie, vicar of the Episcopal Churches of Pahokee, Belle Glade, and Clewiston. It is the first Sunday in Advent, and is the first of the four Sundays preceding Christmas.

Explaining the Advent season, Father Petrie says the season stresses first of all, the coming of God into the world in the stable in Bethlehem on the first Christmas morning. But it also deals with another coming when Christ will appear at the end of time to make the general judgement of men.

Next Sunday, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated in Belle Glade and also in Clewiston. Morning prayer will be the service at Pahokee. The men and boys of the Belle Glade congregation will make their corporate Advent Communion this carrying out a practice almost universal in the Episcopal Church.

At the annual meeting of the congregation of the Clewiston church last week, H. W. Shupe, U. T. Koch, and William E. Bolton were elected vestrymen for three-year terms.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.R.D.

The voters of Stevens County, in northwest Washington, voted 5,000 to 2,000 in favor of selling the County's publicly owned power transmission and distribution lines to the Washington Water Power Company for $2,905,000. The publicly owned system has been in operation a quarter of a century, but by overwhelming majority the voters indicated their preference for private ownership of it. If other publicly-owned utilities throughout the country were sold to private interests, many billions of dollars could be applied to the reduction of Federal and local indebtedness. A war drain on the public purse would be stopped and added tax revenue would become available to local, state and federal governments. This practice step toward recovery of some of the ground lost to socialism should be taken immediately. All would benefit by it.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It is a well known axiom that submission to blackmail leads to greater measures of despair.

This axiom's truth dawned on many in Washington as nation's lawmakers engage in what promises to be the most decisive domestic battle since the War Between the States. The battle is over the repeal of the U. S. tariff laws.

After a preliminary barrage by heads of U. S. industries with foreign plants, a bill to eliminate all tariffs on foreign cars, trucks, and buses, has been introduced, the forerunner to many similar bills proposed.

With one of the ironical twists that mark history's pages, Rep. Allen Hunter of California's Modesto-Fresno introduced the bill.

Immediately, French announced they face trouble unless the wine tariff is also removed.

Here's the irony: Rep. Hunter's district is center of nation's greatest wine producing area.

Two distinct camps will be observed fighting for U. S. tariff elimination: a foreign camp and a domestic camp.

The foreign camp is using arguments successfully employed in grabbing over $30 billion out of U. S. in Marshall Plan and Mutual Security Aid.

The melody of blackmail is familiar.

"Unless America comes across, we may as well be able to stand up against communism," is the old, tired theme.

The domestic camp fighting for National Federation of Independent Business tariff repeals, talks feelingly of high principles involved in America leading the way to world free trade.

However, scratch a domestic "free trader" deep enough, and there is found either substantial interest, or ownership of European plants where cheap labor makes it possible to undercut U. S. made products and make a wider margin of profit without tariffs.

Sen. George Malone of Nevada says another curtain besides the Iron Curtain must be recognized in Europe.

He calls the "low wage curtain" from behind which U. S. firms with branches want to flood the American market with cheap, duty free goods.

Argument is being used that duty free goods produced by cheap foreign labor, will "bring about a change in American labor thinking."

The late Joe Stalin understood this type of reasoning.

He had a similar outlook.

He believed a bullet through heads changed their thinking.

While in many aspects, organized labor has assumed monopoly proportions, it is a domestic monopoly subject to other solutions.

Even discussing turning over the American market to an international monopoly that will ruin not only labor, but independent businessmen and farmers, as well, to solve a domestic labor situation is to be strange. After all, few people contemplate burning down the house to get rid of a leak in the roof. But that parallels current attempt to solve world problems by repealing the protective U. S. tariff laws.

The loss was the total destruction Sunday night of a building at the Joe Waddell place on the Pahokee-Belle Glade Road. Destroyed in the building were two trucks and two tractors. The fire was discovered by a patron at the Glades Club, but not in time for the fire department to save the building, according to Fire Chief Marvin Levins.

On Monday night, firemen were called to Allen's Fruit Store near Canal Point, and extinguished a blaze in crates in front of the store, with no damage to the building.

It's a car!

Stop and think about it. Outside of your home what represents your one most important investment? Chances are, it's a car.

Your automobile is too valuable to be bought or serviced haphazardly. High pressure selling and low pressure servicing rarely result in customer peace of mind, day in and day out car dependability and safety.

Visit the modern facilities, completely equipped and expertly manned service departments of the authorized new car dealers of Pahokee.

In a matter of minutes you'll be convinced that doing business with men of integrity and know-how is not just a matter of dollars and cents, but plain horse sense.
